Thank you for choosing Covenant House Michigan as the recipient of your fundraising event!

Third-party special events complement our fundraising efforts by supporting our mission of providing homeless youth with shelter, educational and vocational programs. The following document with outline some important steps in organizing a successful third-party event.

What are Third-Party Events?

Covenant House Michigan produces several agency-wide special events over the course of a year. These are planned by the Development Department and usually involve inviting our donors, guest, and/or the community. A third-party event is one planned by an individual or group outside of the staff parameters of the organization whereby the proceeds are donated in a lump sum to Covenant House Michigan.

Steps for planning a Third-Party Event:

Brainstorm

Think about the type of event you would like to organize, the manageable size of people you could organize, whether you need to put together committees, who is your audience, your desired venue and your desired fundraising goal. All of these components are very important and should be evaluated throughout the brainstorming process.

Contact Covenant House Michigan

Once you have decided on the event, complete the Event Proposal Form and submit to Covenant House Michigan for review. You will receive a final written agreement between you/your organization and Covenant House Michigan.

Enlist Support

Attempt to enlist as much support as possible at the front-end of the event. We suggest forming a committee and divide into sub-committees so your dedicated and enthusiastic volunteers can each have a role to play in the project.

Establish your Goals

Set attainable financial goals by creating a realistic and measurable budget with sources of both expenses and income. Attempt to acquire as many donations as possible-reduced costs result in realizing higher net proceeds for your event. Be aware of your progress-revisit your goals frequently to assess your progress.
